SEVERE ELECTRIC STORM

Accompanied by High Winds Visits Bellefonte

BUILDINGS UNROOFED

The John Musser Barn Struck by Lightning and Burned to the Ground —Pleasant View Chapel also Damaged.

MUCH EXCITEMENT PREVAILED

One of the heaviest electrical storms, at this season of the year, known to the oldest inhabitants of Centre county, passed over Bellefonte and surrounding towns Monday afternoon doing considerable damage. Houses were unroofed, trees unrooted and telephone and telegraph wires were torn down.

Monday morning there was a small electrical storm which did not last long, and during the forenoon the sun shone brightly. Shortly after 1 o'clock the sky became dark, lightning flashed and thunder rolled. Rain commenced to fall gently at first, but then with increasing force and in some localities accompanied by heavy hail.

At Pleasant View, a suburb of Bellefonte, the Union Chapel a small stone edifice was struck by lightning and badly damaged. The large barn and sheds of John Musser one mile east of Fillmore were struck by lightening and burned to the ground with all the contents, loss about $2000.

At State College the storm was the heaviest in the history of the town. The darkness was intense and the lightning vivid, here the storm reached the proportions of a western hurricane, the coal sheds of John Stuart and William Thompson shingle mill were blown to the ground At Buffalo Run the large barns of Harry Markle and James D. Tyson were unroofed, fences blown down and trees uprooted.

At Millheim the barns of John Stoner, and John Hayes were unroofed and portion of the roof was blown from the Hosiery factory and considerable excitement prevailed for a while. At Penns Creek the Eby barn was considerably damage by the storm, fences were blown down and trees uprooted. Howard, Hublersburg, Pleasant Gap and all nearby towns suffered more or less damage to fences and out buildings by the high wind.

Pneumonia Again.

Physicians are again sounding the pneumonia alarm. More people die annually from pneumonia than from typhoid fever, cancer, diphtheria, grip, appendicitis and scarlet fever combined. The dizease is most prevalent in spring and autumn and the next few weeks will find many victims.

Don't be afraid of cold air. The pneumonia germs love best a hot, poorly ventilated apartment, but cold kills him. Ventilate your bedrooms and drive out the little beast. Stay out doors all you can consistent with safety and take regular exercise. Pneumonia takes the weak and run down first, and when it once gets hold it is frightfully persistent. Wholesome food, plenty of fresh air, and the needful exercise ought to hold pneumonia at arm's length. As an ounce of prevenion is better than a pound of cure. try these things, which are nature's provisions, and you will probably come out all right.

A Pretty Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hall, near Howard, Pa., Thursday, April 6th, at thigh noon. The contracting parties were their daughter, Miss Mollie K. Hall and John P, Bolick, of Salona, Pa. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. M. Aller, pastor of the Howard Methodist Episcopal church, in the immediate presence of the family and friends of the bride and groom. The wedding dinner, prepared by Mrs. Hall and daughters, was a sumptuous feast and reflected great credit upon those who prepared it.

Mrs. Bolick is one of Howard's most estimable ladies and Mr. Bolick is a successful business man of Salona. They will make their future home at Salona whither the good wishes of hosts of friends follow them.

NEW HOTEL AT STATE.

Four Story Brick-Cased Building to be Erected.

A new hotel at State College seems to be assured. The old livery barn is now being moved to its location on the alley at the rear of Wm. Hoy's residence and orders have been given by the Nittany Real Estate Co. to begin the principal operations at once, says The Times.

The plans, which were drawn by Seymour and Paul Davis, of Philadelphia, call for the removal of the old building about sixty feet south on Allen street. In the space thus vacated a fine new four story brick building is to be erected. The old buildin is to be raised up several feet; the first story is to be given a higher ceiling; the walls are to be encased with brick, and, in fact, the structure is to be so built and remodeled as to be in entire harmony with the new portion and form an integral part of the block.

The lobby of the hotel is to be on Allen street. The second floor will be largely utilized for parlors, dining rooms, writing rooms and sample rooms. The parlors will open upon a commodious porch which will extend quite a distance along both Allen street and College avenue. The upper stories will be devoted to sleeping rooms and apartments—some of these rooms will be arranged with private baths. In such portions of the first floor as are not utilized for hotel purposes will be arranged five large, well lighted and handsome store rooms. We are informed that the Secretary of the Company has at the present time more than a dozen applications for these rooms. Bowling alleys, a barber shop, and the establishment of The Nittany Printing and Publishing Company will occupy the basement of the building.

The brick to be used for the construction is of a beautifully mottled buff color and is manufactured in Orvis by the Hayes Run Fire Brick Co. The building will be lighted throughout by electricity and heated by steam. It is said that the total cost of the property will be about four thousand dollars.

Walker Twp. High School Commencement.

On Friday evening one of the largest audiences ever assembled in Hublersburg listened with evident pride to the declamations of the Walker Twp. High School graduates. The commencement exercises were held in the Presbyterian church and were largely attended.

Eleven young ladies and gentlemen completed the three years course in the High School and were awarded their diplomas on this occassion by Hon. W. C. Heinle, president of the Centre Co. Directors Association. Mr. Heinle was generous in his words of advice to the young people, which if heeded, will eliminate many of the disappointments and hardships ordinarily encountered on the sea of life.

Superintendent C. L. Gramley, who was also present, addressed the class. his remarks being chiefly advisory and commendatory.

Prof. John S. Hosterman, of Centre Hall, and a graduate of Franklin and Marshall, is the efficient principal of the school, and the speedy result obtained under his management is unprecedented. We note with interest the evolution of the country schools of our county. Within two weeks we have had three high school commencements, and more is hoped for in future years. With the advent of the rural free delivery and the township High school the opportunities of the country boy and girl are increased ten-fold.

Those who took part in last night's exercises and their subjects are as follows:

Salutatory.....E. Ward Markle
"Lest We Forget"...Margaret McCormick
"American Ideals"....Benjamin F. Swartz
"The Treason of Benedict Arnold"
.....Roy M. Decker
"The Decisive Battle of the Rebellion"
.....Alverna Martin
Valedictory.....Chas. A. Schaeffer

The other members of the class were Pearl O. Hoy, Nora V. Whitman, Laura Decker, Calvin M. Hoy and Paul A. Walkey.

Class motto: "Launched, Where Shall We Anchor?"
Colors:—Purple and White.

The ticket that is to be elected next fall will be nominated at the Republican convention Tuesday, April 18. The delegate election is on Saturday, April 15. Turn out at the primaries.

THE SOLDIERS MONUMENT

Names of Soldiers From the Revolutionary War Down.

UPON BRONZE TABLETS

Major James Armour and William Gill Soldiers of the War of 1812 First to Join Our Veteran Club.

SEND IN THE SOLDIERS NAMES NOW

In order to secure absolute accuracy in the names and spelling thereof on our soldiers' monument, we will publish from time to time the lists of certain companies so as to enable those who are interested to suggest changes in initials or spelling, and also to suggest the names of any persons who may have been omitted from the rolls. This is the last opportunity which will be given to our people and to the survivors or friends of deceased soldiers who served from Centre county to have these names corrected. The Committee, therefore, appeals very earnestly to all who are interested in the subject to carefully scan all the names to ascertain

1st, whether any have been omitted; and

2nd, whether the names of those already contained in the rolls are properly spelled.

It is also very important that the names of soldiers who enlisted in organizations outside of the county or state should be secured, in order that they may find their place among the nation's defenders upon the monument. This is perhaps the most important thing which the Committee has in charge, the organizations from our own county being already well known. If, therefore, any person, in or out of the county, has knowledge of a citizen of Centre couny who enlisted in organizations outside of the county and state, it is specially important that their names should be ascertained, so that they may find a place among those who enlisted at home.

Any communication in regard to these names addressed to Gen. John I. Curtin or William H. Musser, Bellefonte, will receive prompt attention.

An Example We Could Follow With Profit.

The Williamsport police are trying to break up corner loafing and social gatherings in the doorways of stores of that city,

The police are obeying the orders of Chief Evans to make the loiterers to move on when once told to do so, and it is really amusing to watch the antics of some of the frequent offenders along Pine, Third and Fourth streets. If the practice does not soon cease, orders may be expected from the powers that be to make an example of some of the offenders.

Wouldn't it be a fine thing if our police would emulate the example set by Williamsport? For a town of its size Bellefonte can beat any town in Central Pennsylvania for the number of chronic loafers and general no account characters that hold forth at prominent points on our streets. On pleasant evenings and on Sunday afternoons these gentlemanly (?) characters amuse themselves by squirting copious quantities of tobacco juice on the sidewalks and making insulting remarks about women who have to either run the gauntlet between their ranks or go out in the streets.

Can't Beat Neyhart's Hens.

One of the local papers in a recent issue elaborated on the percentage of fruitfulness of a Centre county chicken fancier's hens. The statement was made that 45 hens during the month of March yielded 955 eggs, which was at an average of 22 2-9 eggs per hen.

This looks and really is quite a record, but the veteran mail carrier, Simon P. Neyhart, of Central City, has reason to feel proud over the work of his ten Plymouth Rock hens during the month of March. These ten beauties layed 241 eggs, which average exactly 24 1-10 eggs per hen for the month.

Can anyone beat this?

THE NAVAL DRAMA

All Japan Welcomes Approach of the Baltic Fleet to Open Waters.

THE RUSSIAN'S DELAY

Czar and His Advisers Seemingly Determined to Risk Everything on the Fight With Togo.

JAPS' MANCHURIAN ARMY INCREASED

Tokio, April 12.—All Japan welcomes the approach of the Baltic fleet to open waters, where Togo can deal with it.

Russia's delay in the arranging of peace fter the Mukden defeat is now explained The czar and his advisers are seemingly determined to risk everything on a last throw of the dice. The Baltic fleet, however, arrives on the scene too late. Its advent has been ill timed, for Togo has had time to overhaul his vessels and put them into first-class fighting trim. He is able to give a warm reception to the wearied crews and slow steaming vessels of the Russians.

It is believed that the collision of the Japanese and Russian fleets will virtually be the final act in the naval drama. The Japanese are confident that the powers will take care that their officials in the different colonies in the straits and far east will preserve strict neutrality.

It is understood here that Admiral Rojestvensky had never been informed of the catastrophe at Mukden by the Russian government and left Madagascar in entire ignorance of the position of affairs in Manchuria.

Japan is meeting the Russian plan of reorganization and reinforcement of its Manchurian armies with an extensive expendition from its own military organization. The details and figures are carefully concealed of what seems to be a plan to double the present army unite, but it is reliably estimated that by autumn next the total military organization will exceed one million men actually employed in the field. The fighting force is roughly estimated at 7000,000 men, with increases largely in the infantry and artillery, although an enlargement in the cavalry branch is also contemplated. As a result of the manufacture at the arsenals in Japan, together with captures and purchases of guns, it is predicted that this year will see a Japanese artillery superior to that of the Russians, in quality as well as numerically, and it is confidently believed that the Russians will be incapable of overcoming these numerical disadvantages.

Millionairess Marries Hotel Clerk.

Hot Springs, Kan., April 10.—Miss Pearl H. White, daughter of W. J. White, the millionaire manufacturer of Cleveland and former congressman, was married here at St. Luke's Episcopal church to James T. Bancroft, who three weeks ago was a clerk at one of the prominent hotels of Palm Beach, Fla The wedding was the result of love at first sight. Bancroft gave up his position on the second day after meeting Miss White. His home is in Brookline, Mass., and he is twenty-five years of age. His parents are poor. The couple have left for the bride's home.

An Ill Wind Blows Somebody Good.

The draymen of Jersey Shore are reaping a harvest as a result of the recent flood, which washed many wagon loads of stove wood from the saw mills along Pine Creek and landed it on the farm land of E. Wentz. Mr. Wentz is anxious to have the wood removed from his wheat fields and is selling it at fifteen cents for a single horse load or twenty-five cents for a double load. Teams have been hauling all week and there is still an abundance of good stove wood on the flats.

Frightful Runaway.

Mrs. Joseph L. Montgomery and two children and Master Philip Reynolds, narrowly escaped death last Thursday afternoon by being in a runaway. The horse ran furiously down High street, turning the corner at the Adams Express office and at the lower corner of the Bush House came in contact with a telephone pole and the occupants were all thrown out a little frightened but not injured.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Boggs Township Directors Have Test Case Before Justice Potter.

The Bogge township school board evidently believes in living up to the letter of the 1901 law relating to compulsory attendance of children within the prescribed age limit of 8 and 16 years.

Recently a test case was heard before Justice John F. Potter, at his office in Central City, at which time John T. Baylets, a citizen of Bogge township, was a defendant in a suit brought against him on the charge of neglecting to send several children to school, and thereby violating the compulsory school law. Acting Secretary Charles Peters, President William Fisher and Director John Wagner appeared as prosecutors in the case. Quite an amount of testimony was taken through which was developed the fact that during the greater part of the term, and especially during the past two months several of Mr. Baylets' children, within the prescribed age, failed to attend the regulation number of days during the school month.

Under the law and the evidence Justice Potter adjudged the defendant guilty of the charge, imposed a fine and directed him to pay the costs in the case.

To Be a Soldiers' Monument.

Bellefonte, April 10th, 1905.

MR. EDITOR;—

Inquiry has been made by some of our citizens as to whether or not the names of the soldiers who served in the Revolutionary War and in the War of 1812 would be borne upon the bronze tablets on our soldiers' monument. That of course, is intended. Although Centre county was not organized until 1800, there were men from Northumberland and the other counties from which Centre was taken serving in the Revolutionary War, and others came to reside in Centre county after the war was over. The name of every such man should be borne upon our monument.

We will begin, of course, with Brigadier General James Potter, one of the trusted general officers in Washington's army. He came here, as I understand it, before the Revolution, but was not living here at the time hostilities were carried on. He was then in Cumberland county, but he lived here subsequently and had so much to do with the development of the county that his name should, of course, appear. Personally, I would be glad, if we could get a good picture of him, to have a bust of him upon the monument.

Two of the first men to join our Veteran Club, when it was organized were Major James Armour and William Gill, soldiers of the War of 1812. We recognized them as comrades with great gratification, and I am sure our monument would not be complete without their names and those of all others like them who served in the War of 1812.

Let me appeal to the people of Centre county to send the names of all Revolutionary soldiers, of those of the War of 1812 and of those who served in the war with Mexico to Gen. John I. Curtin, so that their names may appear upon the bronze plates which will constitute the most valuable part of our monument.

It is understood also that the names of those who enlisted elsewhere, but who came to reside in Centre county and made their home here after the war, will also be carried on these plates. Also the men who served in the Spanish-American War.

This is to be a soldiers' monument and not merely a monument to those who served in our Civil war. Our committee has emphasized this on several occasions, and we hope our people, generally, will understand and appreciate it and will assist in every possible way in securing the name of every man who is entitled to appear upon the monument.

Very cordially yours,
JAMES A. BEAVER.

Woman Murdered in Hotel.

New York, April 10.—Mamie Wilson, a pretty young woman, died in St. Vincent's hospital of frightful stab wounds. She identified as the man who stabbed her James Boyne, steward of the Avon Beach club at Bath Beach. The crime was committed in a room at the Hotel St. Lawrence, 30 East Thirteenth street, and bears many mark of resemblance to the "Jack the Ripper" mysteries of London.

James S. Scranton Dead.

Scranton, Pa., April 6.—James Selden Scranton, last member of the immediate family of Colonel George Scranton, for whom this city is named, died here, aged 64 years. The deceased was a pioneer in the coal and iron business here, and was also in the iron business at Oxford, N. J.

MY HOUSE UPON THE HILL.

They built a Castle on Bellefonte Hill,
It is called Fort Taylor and stands there still;
Now, that is a place you ought to see
Then you would know why we want to be free.
When the prisoners go up into that place
They have a smile upon their face,
But when there they have been very long,
The smile on their face is entirely gone.

We get our potatoes three times a day
And there is not a one has a word to say,
But when we are locked in our cells at night
There is not a one who feels very bright.
When we all have turned in and gone to sleep
Trusting the Lord our souls to keep,
And dreaming what the next day brings about,
Hoping that we are going to get out.

When guard Trafford comes in the morning again
His duties to perform and the day to spend,
He unlocks our cells and lets us out,
We feel happy again to see him about.
Now, take Capt. Caulkins, he looks happy and gay,
Not so with Jake Jackson, I am sorry to say;
And there is John Gilliland, he looks very sore.
It would be a good plan to give him three months more.

There is George Fultz, he must have been slow.
The police got him drunk and he told them all he did know;
As for myself, I am not going to pout,
They have me shut up in here, but I wish I was out.
Dillen and Green are jolly boys
And they try to see which one can make most noise;
There is old Bill Gilliland who is a rare old bird,
I can speak well of him, if it is only a word.

Now, the Woodward Dutch, they are all right,
For they took all that there was in sight;
But when they were brought up on the hill
It was for them a bitter pill.
As for Young eating, he will never stick,
But when scrub day comes he is always sick;
And Sam Solt he is always gay,
Taking the most interesting part in our play.

There is Captain Taylor. he is a jolly good Mick,
He treats us all right and we have no kick;
The meals that he gives are all out of sight,
By the quantity we get you wouldn't think he is tight.
You know this place is not like home,
There are other places I would rather roam.
This is something to think about
And I will not be sorry when I get out.

When you come to visit us all,
Bring a poke of tobacco and give cell No. 1 a call.
We thank you very much for all that you bring
But will be pleased to see you if you don't bring a thing;
Now, stranger, if you will take my advice,
Keep very straight and you will be wise,
When you come here and ask what our case is
All that we can tell you is, that we are in to get out.

Millenium Will Come in 1916.

A picturesque party of men, women and children, 83 in number, members of a religious sect who proclaim themselves descendants of the Lost Tribes of Israel, arrived in New York the other day on the steamer Princess Irene. They came from Australia and are bound for Benton Harbor, Mich., where they say 400 members of the sect already are established. They call themselves Children of Israel and are vegetarians. The men wear long hair and beards. They profess to believe in the saving of the mortal body, as well as the soul.

The Israelites explained that they were getting together so as to be prepared to ascend to heaven together in August, 1916, when they believe the end of the world will occur and Satan will be overpowered and put in bondage. They aver that only one tribe of Israel, that of Judah, is now lost, and they expect to find that tribe before the end of the world.

Sold by all druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" and take on other kind.

The Soldier's Monument.

There is now no doubt but that we will have that long discussed soldier's monument and Curtin memorial erected in Bellefonte this summer. The clay model of the figure of ex-Governor Curtin has been completed and has been adjudged a very good likeness. The figure will be moulded in bronze at an early date. Work has been commenced on the granite for the superstructure of the monument. This work will all be done at the quarries and the granite shipped here all ready to put up. It is expected that work on the foundation for the monument will be begun in about a month and from then on the work will be pushed just as fast as possible to completion so that the monument can be dedicated in the early fall.

Danger of Prophecy.

M. Rouvier, the new French premier, is a dangerous man about whom to prophesy. When he was a young man he left the Marseilles bank in which he was a clerk, his employer telling him that he would never get on in banking or finance. Since that famous valediction he has been five times minister of finance and president of one of the most successful banks in France. Not a bad record for a man who was declared to "have no head for figure."—London Globe.

Injured by Rope Jumping.

Miss Mamie Ayers, who makes her home with her uncle, Joseph Ayers, on Willowbank street, has been very ill with what the physicians term spinal meningitis. The little girl is between 11 and 12 years old and is an excessive rope jumper. Last week she was taken ill and gradually grew worse until Friday when her case became serious. She suffered excruciating pain and was unable to lie quiet in bed. She plead with her friends to tie her down with ropes, as her moving and twisting about only intensified her suffering. A couple of local physicians who saw the case pronounced the girl incurable, although the best of medical attention was given her. To the surprise of those who were interested in the case the patient began to improve and is now on a fair way to recovery.

The physicians claim they cannot assign any reason for this peculiar case other than the over exertion of jumping rope. This should be a lesson to mothers in Bellefonte and throughout the country to instruct and warn their daughters against over exercising in jumping rope.

Fighting San Jose Scale.

Douglas B. Young, Assistant State Entomologist of New York, and J. L. Nixon, from the Geological Department at Albany, are at Oyster Bay on an important mission. They are to go over the field and make experiments. Their observations will include the San Jose scale and other destructive insects.

A vigorous campaign has been inaugurated against the insects that are destroying trees and shrubbery. The new machine for the extermination of the San Jose scale is said to be now doing most effective work. Most of the trees on the large country seats have been sprayed, including President Roosevelt's place at Sagamore Hill, the work being done under the direction of Noah Seaman, superintendent of the President's grounds. Many of the orchards and ornamental trees will be saved through the efforts now being made.

May End Hanging.

The Riley bill to abolish capital punishment, pending in the house, will probably be passed in both branches of the Legislature next week. Governor Pennypacker has clearly stated during the past few days that the measure should be law, and Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham have manifested interest in the bill, which will be considered specially next Tuesday morning.

H. I. Riley, of Millvale, father of the measure, has received word that the state leaders will help to insure the passage of the measure. He finds that it is favored by a majority of the members of the house. Statistics bearing on the case of capital punishment have been compiled in pamphlet form and distributed among the members. The bill would provide a sentence of life imprisonment in place of hanging.

Natural Soap.

It is said that in a mountain near Elko, Nevada, there is an inexhaustible supply of pure soap. One may enter the mine with a butcher knife and cut as large a piece as he wants. It is beautifully mottled, and on being exposed to the air hardens somewhat. The mountain of clay is of fine texture, and it contains boracic acid, soda, and borate of lime. Its color is given it by the iron and other minerals. In its natural state it is rather strong in alkali, and removes ink and other stains readily. At the time it was used on Pullman cars but when its peculiar origin became generally known passengers appropriated it so extensively for souvenirs that the company was forced to go back to the common soap of commerce.—Waverley Magazine.

Dreadful Attack of Whooping Cough.

Mrs. Ellen Harrison of 300 Park Ave. Kansas City, Mo, writes as follows: "Our two childred had a severe attack of whooping cough, one of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose. We tried everything we heard of without getting relief. We then called in our family doctor who prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar. With the very first dose they began to improve and we feel that it has saved their lives." Refuse substitutes. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Blown to Pieces.

Tucson, Ariz., April 7.—T. C Lamb, superintendent of Tree Amigos mine, has been blown to pieces by an infernal machine while asleep in his house at the edge of town. Several sticks of dynamite were placed under a corner of the house and a five-foot fuse attached. When it was exploded the house and contents were scattered all over the hillside.

Fragments of Lamb's body were found a half mile apart. Lamb's wife and family were in the East, on a visit. At the inquest a verdict of murder by persons unknown was returned, but arrests were expected to follow. Lamb has been involved in several bitter disputes about mining property. A strict investigation is being made.

Time to Make Garden.

When gentle spring comes so balmly upon us as it is doing this year, with the reassuring appearance of its intention to stay, every town dweller who has a bit of ground about his house should begin to think of gardening operations. The plot may not be extensive—no more than a few feet square—but he can plant it with peas, onions, radishes, lettuce and other vegetables and find room for a few flowers to throw a little color and a little fragrance on the situation. It is not only the plants and the flowers that will contribute a pleasure and reflect a benefit upon the garden makers. When nature is arraying herself in green and throwing out her sweet odors it is not only the senses of sight and smell that appeal to us. There is an inner feeling impelling us to put our hands to work in the earth, to bathe in the sunshine, and to open our souls to the influences of spring that are giving new life to all animate creation. Therefore begin to make garden, and do it while the robins and bluebirds are giving free concerts from trees that are about to clothe themselves with leaves and blossoms.

That Bellefonte—State College Trolley Line.

Any person who thinks that the project for the building of a trolley line from Bellefonte to State College has fallen through, or that the men at the head of the undertaking have fallen asleep, is badly mistaken, as the movement is progressing just as fast as it is possible for one of that magnitude to go. The company has secured the necessary franchises in the three boroughs through which the line will pass and have also secured the right-of-way along the entire line to the College. Inside of two weeks the contract will be let to make the required surveys for the location of the road together with the various estimates preliminary to beginning work on the building of the line. Everything is moving along smoothly and those who are interested in the project give the assurance that it will be a sure go.

Horse Steps on Child.

The Centre Hall Reporter of Thursday says that as Jacob Laub, residing near Maitland, was doing some hauling his little girls, aged four and six years asked to be placed on the horses' backs for a ride, with which request the father complied, but while he was a short distance away the horses passed under a tree, which scraped both children to the ground. The father hearing the children scream hurried to their assistance, finding one of the horses standing with a foot resting on the abdomen of the oldest child. He removed the horse as carefully as he could, then sent for a physician, who rendered the necessary medical assistance, and while the child was seriously hurt it is believed it will recover. The other child was injured about the face but not seriously.

Body of Pocahontas Will be Disinterred.

Richmond, Va., April 7.—After reposing for many decades in the soil of England, the body of the Indian princess, Pocahontas will be brought to this country and buried on Jamestown Island, the site of the first English settlement in America.

This, according to General Fitzhugh, Lee, president of the Jamestown Exposition Company, will be one of the most interesting events of the exposition to be held two years hence, to celebrate the landing at Jamestown.

It is stated that Pocahontas, who married Rolfe, was buried at Gravesend, and that her resting place has been kept in repair. Influential people in England are lending their aid to further the removal.

Found Dead in Bed.

Orange, N. J., April 6.—Mrs. Mary Grant Cramer, sister of the late President U. S. Grant, and widow of Dr. Michael J. Cramer, was found dead in bed Wednesday at the home of her sister, Mrs Virginia Grant Corbin, in East Orange. Mrs. Cramer retired the previous night in good health apparently.

She was married to Dr. Cramer in 1863, when he was pastor of the Pearl Street church, Cincinnati. In 1867 Dr. Cramer was appointed by President Johnson as Consul at Leipsic, and in 1871 President Grant appointed him minister to Denmark.

Roosevelt's Birthplace to be Sold.

New York, April 6.—The house in which Theodore Roosevelt was born, at 28 East 20th street, is about to be sold. Leo. P. Glosel, president of the Roosevelt Home Club, said that he has undertaken to organize a property and maintain the house permanently, and will within the next few days announce a treasurer for the fund, and an appeal will be made for funds.

FIFTY CENTS

IN some conditions the gain from the use of Scott's Emulsion is very rapid. For this reason we put up a fifty-cent size, which is enough for an ordinary cough or cold or useful as a trial for babies and children. In other conditions the gain is slower—health cannot be built up in a day. In such cases Scott's Emulsion must be taken as nourishment; a food rather than a medicine. It's a food for tired and weak digestions.

ROCKEFELLER AND HIS GIFT

Standard Oil Solicitor Makes a Statement

STRONG DECLARATION

The Assertion is Vile and Being Made by Ministers in the Pretended Interest of Morality is Doubly Vile.

HE DENIES DISHONEST MONEY.

New York, April 7.—S. C. T. Dodd, Chief Solicitor of the Standard Oil company, gave out a statement Thursday with reference to the recent discussion as to the acceptance of a gift of $100,000 offered by John D. Rockefeller for missionary work. Mr. Dodd declares that the statement that Mr. Rockefeller made his money dishonestly "is false is vile, and being made by ministers in the pretended interest of morality is doubly vile. Mr. Dodd then says that the Standard Oil company does not own a share of stock of any railroad company does not control any railroad company, and that since the enactment of the interstate commerce law has not received lower rates than other shippers by rebates, arrangements, devices or plans of any character. The testimony of Howard Page, of the Standard Oil company, before the Industrial Commission is quoted in this connection. With reference to gas and copper companies Mr. Dodd says:

"No doubt many have been prejudiced against Mr. Rockefeller by sensational writers, whose articles accompanied by portraits and caricatures are intended to create the impression that Mr. Rockefeller was principal in the affairs relating to the organization of the gas and copper companies, although no fact showing such connection is stated. The Standard Oil company has already denied that it had any connection of interest, directly or indirectly, in the organization of these corporations, and on the best authority the same denial is now made for John D. Rockefeller. He had no connection with nor interested directly nor indirectly with the organization of these corporations."

Mr. Dodd in his statement says:

"There may well be a difference of opinion on the abstract question whether the Board of Missions should receive gifts unless satisfied that the giver is honest; but all will agree that if he who brings his gift to the altar must come with clean hands, still more should he who ministers at the altar and receives the gift be free from stain. There is no excuse for those who make money dishonestly and still the less excuse for those who in the name of religion falsely accuse their fellow men."

Discovery of a New Planet.

The director of the observatory on Koenigstuhl mountain, Germany, has discovered a new planet of the thirteenth magnitude by means of a celestial photograph. The number of minor planets, sometimes known as asteroids, discovered up to the end of 1900, was 463. In 1901, by means of photography, 36 were added and in 1802, 43 more, while a considerable number was found in the last two years.

The diameters of these planets are in general only a few miles, those of the four largest being about 470, 300, 240 and 120 miles respectively, while that of Eros is abont 15 miles. By the magnitude of a star or planet is meant the degree of its brightness. No star or planet of less than sixth magnitude is visible to the naked eye.—Week's Progress.

Wagon Passed over Young Man.

Hile, the oldest son of Geo. Dunklebarger, of Pleasant Gap, met with rather a serious accident Tuesday April, 4. The day previous he had gone to Frank Lee's, near Nigh Bank, to work on the farm, and the first work to be done was hauling manure. The young man was passing through the lane with the team when in some way he fell from the wagon, one of the wheels of which passed over his abdomen. Dr. Lee was called, and reports that while there were no bones broken, the internal injuries are of such a character as to make the outcome very uncertain.

$5.000 in Bonds and Additional Gold Found in Negro's Home.

Uniontown, Pa., April 6.—The late home of Benson B. Fordyce, the negro recluse who died a few days ago near Smithfield, was visited Sunday by hundreds, and the doors were locked to keep the house from being ransacked. A lead pipe was found between the floor upstairs and the ceiling full of gold pieces, containing in all $200. In the same place was an old coffee pot with $130 in gold This with some bank notes amounting to $20 made the whole Sunday find $350.

In the same place was found, Monday morning a tin box containing $5,000 in Government bonds. The money so far found on the premises, including the bonds, amount to $5,800 All has been placed in a bank at Smithfield. No will has yet been found, and it is likely the money will go to Roney Fordyce of Kentucky, a brother.

About the close of the rebellion B. B. Fordyce raised sheep and held his wool for years in hope of higher prices. He finally vowed that he would not sell until wool went up to $1 a pound He never got his price and now there are several hundred pounds of wool 40 years old stored in the barn.

A Vote of Thanks for Messrs. Womelsdorf and Noll.

At the close of a meeting held in "Petrikin Hall" Sunday p. m. April 2nd, 1905, in commemoration of the anniversary of the birth of the blind hymn writer "Fanny Crosby," which meeting was held by Gen. James A. Beaver, the following resolutions were offered by Mrs, John P Harris, Pres. of the W. C. T. U., of Bellefonte, and unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, Sundry bills have been offered in the legislature, now in session at Harrisburg, and some of them passed, intended to cripple the work of the law and order societies of the cities and to protect what is known as the "White Slave traffic,"—and

WHEREAS, It appears our representatives in this Legislature—the Hon. P. E. Womelsdorf and the Hon. John L Noll, both voted against these measures every opportunity that was offered. Therefore:—

Resolved, That the unanimous approval and thanks of this meeting be extended to our Representatives above named for their fidelity to the cause of right and against organized wrong, and

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Hon. gentlemen and a copy given to the county papers.

Timely National Guard Notes.

The official announcement was made from National Guard headquarters at Harrisburg Tuesday that rifle practice will begin on May 1 and close September 30. The team competitions for brigade, regimental and troop trophies presented by the state and for the McClellan skirmish trophy, will be held at Mt. Gretna from August 7 to 12 inclusive. A new team of 12 men and three reserves to represent the state in the national match to be held at Sea Girt, N. J., beginning August 24, will be selected by the general inspector of rifle practice.

Pennsylvania's National Guard will encamp by brigades this year, but the sites for the camps have not yet been selected. The First and Third brigades will be in camp from July 2 to 15, the First encamping near Philadelphia and the Third at Mt. Gretna.

The Second brigade may encamp at Somerset, but that has not been decided. Some of the brigade commanders desired a division encampment this year, but it was decided to continue the custom of alternating division and brigade camps.

Had Eye Knocked Out by a Flying Missile

A most painful and unfortunate mishap befell Harry Kemmerer, a youth of 14 years, while at work in a saw mill near Loganton. The accident occurred at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Harry, who is the son of John Kemmerer, was employed at his father's mill as stave carrier and while at work near a swiftly revolving edger, a small piece of wood caught in the saw and with the rapidity of lightning flew through the air and struck the lad in the left eye tearing it from the socket.

Fellow workmen heard the boy's screams and hurried to his assistance. He was quickly removed to his home and Dr. L. M. Goodman summoned, who dressed the wounds. The eye was removed and it is hoped the sight of the right eye will not be impared by the accident.

The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." —Frederick MacMonnies, the sculptor, is just putting the finishing touches at his studio at Giverny, France, to an equestrian statue of President Roosevelt as a Rough Rider in bronze and which is to be presented to the President as soon as possible.

—Carl Melchors, the American painter, has been selected as a member of the International Committee for the organization of the foreign exhibits at the Art Exhibition in Venice to be inaugurated by the King of Italy on April 22. The American exhibitors number thirteen and include J. S. Sergeant.

—Louis W. Mayer, formerly of Philadelphia, has just died in San Francisco. He was the last member of the artillery company commanded by the late General Sherman in the Mexican War. This company went to California around the Horn on the navy ship Lexington, and was the first company of United States troops to arrive there.

—The Countess of Minto has written so delightful an appreciation of the glories and beauties of the Canadas, from East to far Northwest, that she may come close to the Countess of Aberdeen and Dufferin in popularity as the chief lady of the Dominion. This paper is published in the National Review and is calculated to open British eyes to the importance of the great colony,

—A girl in California wrote to the authorities of a town in New England to inquire into the character of a young man fr m that town who wanted to marry her. This was a very prosaic and unromantic proceedings on the part of the young woman, but there is less likelihood of her appearance in the divorce courts later than if the couple had evaded parental objections with a romantic elopement An infusion of business in sentiment does no real harm

—Hon. P. E. Womelsdorff is again to be highly commended for his vote Thursday in the legislature against the infamous Ehrhardt bill. Messrs. Boulton and Schofield, the worthy representatives of Clearfield county, who are not to be bull-dozed by the party bosses voted against the bill also, despite the fact that it passed this time by a vote of 130 to 54. A whole lot of fellows, previously recording their vote against the bill, were whipped into line.

—Internal revenue officials have been notified by the internal revenue commissioners that on and after May 1st "dummy" cigar boxes will not be allowed to be used in making attractive displays in the windows and the interiors of cigar stores. The decree is that all these 'dummies" must go Dealers found using them with the brand of the manufacturer and his caution notice still intact are to be liable to arrest and prosecution. The penalties are fine and imprisonment or both.

—Mac. Mothersbaugh died at his home in Renovo, on Tuesday, March 28th. at the age of 50 years. Deceased was a native of Ferguson township and was raised to manhood in Pine Grove Mills, where his father kept a hotel. For a number of years he has lived in Renovo where he was employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad shops. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, Dr. Mothersbaugh, of Eagleville, and Owen Mothersbaugh, of Boalsburg, and one sister, Mrs. Samuel Glenn, of the Branch. The remains were taken to Reading for burial.

—Railroads in this state are prohibited from employing locomotive engineers who have not had three years' experience by a bill introduced in the House by Mr. Sheatz, of Philadelphia. The feature of the bill is contained in the section which provides that all persons who shall be employed as locomotive engineers must have had at least "three years actual experience and service as a locomotive fireman and locomotive engineer, upon a locomotive nor shall any person engage as such locomotive engineer who shall not have had such experience and service. Applicants for such positions must take affidavit as to their experience.

—Monessen comes to the front and will try the experiment of the school garden. The board of education has agreed to stand the expense for the cultivation of an acre of ground in the rear of one of the public school buildings. Fifty pupils have responded to the call for volunteers to work the plot. The government supplies the seed and the pupils do the rest, a community garden being laid out into individual plots, two pupils to a plot. The proceeds of the "farm" will go towards defraying expenses. This is probably the first garden of the kind in the state and the experiment will be watched with interest. There is no more interesting or healthful occupation than gardening, and with willing workers among the pupils of the public schools the garden can scarcely fail to be successful. It is an innovation of a pleasing nature.

—The President is not the only man who will hunting this month. Many private citizens are out hunting—flats.

—Burdock Blood Bitters gives a man a clear head, an active brain, a strong, vigorous body—makes him fit for the battle of life.

—The Government of New South Wales has sanctioned the erection of two state institutions for the treatment of inebriates without means.

—The new Arctic exploring vessel has been named the Roosevelt. If there's anything in a name she ought to reach the North Pole.

—The Japanese have adopted a compulsory system of national education. A boy or girl must attend school as soon as they attain the age of 6 and remain there until the age of 14.

—There will be fifty three Sundays in this year and those who find the Sabbath a dull day can at least console themselves with the thought that there will be fifty three paydays as well.

—Tangier had but two hours in which to enjoy the society of the German Emperor. It is said that the Morrocco Sultan calls on one in something less than two hours.

—Nicholas is reported to have said that if peace is made now he cannot remain czar. But many will regard the last eventually as quite as much of a blessing for Russia as the former.

—On March 24 Gov. Pennypacker approved an amendment to the marriage license act empowering notary publics to receive applications for marriage licenses the same as justices of the peace and aldermen.

—A berth has not yet been found for the Hon. John Barrett formerly our representative at Panama. Difficulty is found in selecting a place sufficiently remote from civilization and yet abounding in all the luxuries of syberitish life.

—Indiana, the home of geniuses, politicians and reforms has abolished the upper berth in sleeping cars. Now if they abolish the lower berth and stand for separate compartments like the European cars we shall know that the youthful and irrepressible effervescence of Senator Beveridge has not been in vain.

—Although the opening of the trout fishing season does not occur until the 15th inst. already several of our local fishermen—and there are some good ones in this town—are getting out their rods and fishing tackle from the winter storage, and putting them in order for the season, and the indications are that they will have use for them.

—The Daughters of the Revolution are getting ready for Revolution. A new President is to be elected to succeed Mrs. Fairbanks, the wife of the Vice-President, and war clouds are gathering. The new building which the society is erecting in Washington is being inspected by a brewer who thinks it will be just in his line when the society shall have exterminated itself.

—If you want to raise your boy for the penitentiary the receipt is very simple. When he don't want to go to school let him loaf. When he gets into mischief and your neighbor reports to you, curse the neighbor in the presnce of the boy. When he gets a little larger and purloins something of little value and you find it out, laugh at him and let him go; when he gets into something that calls him into justice court and he is found guilty and fined, pay his fine, curse the court and jury and everyone connected with the matter, and pity the boy and you will soon have a splendid candidate for the penitentiary.

Rail Road Men

In all departments of active service stand in need of the readiness of mind and promptness of action which depend on a healthy nervous system. Let a railroad man be "rattled," and every life depending on him is in danger. A great many railroad men have found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a valuable tonic for the overstrained nervous system. It builds up the body, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and induces a healthy appetite and refreshing sleep.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me; could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets,' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since."

Vin-Te-Na... Means Vim.

It is a medicine that actually feeds the weakened nerves by enriching and purifying the blood. Each ingredient is of the highest medical value. It cures more diseases than any other remedy on the market simply because it gets right down to the source of nine-tenths of all diseases, that is, the blood and nerves. When the blood is made pure and rich and the nerves are toned, diseases disappear as surely as shadows disappear when the light is turned on. If you are rheumatic; if you have stomach, liver or bowel trouble; if your nervous system is going to pieces, Vin-te-na will cure you because all these troubles are caused by bad blood.

EDITORIAL.

—Life insurance seems to be a good thing, especially for the officers. The Equitable troubles remind us of the story of the two newsboys who pooled issues and bought a toby for two cents. The elder lighted the toby and smoked up with great relish. The younger watched with an interest that betrayed more and more of anxiety as the weed was being consumed into ashes. Finally, he said: "Lemme smoke some." Without removing the toby from his mouth, the other replied: "No; I'm the President of this yere company and youse the stockholder. I'll do the smokin' and you do the spittin'."

Monday's Storm.

Speaking of Monday's storm recalls a story by one of the oldest of our citizens now recently dead.

On the day of Gen. Philip Benner's funeral at the time when the procession was about to start from Rock Forge mansion to the old graveyard on the hill, across the creek a mile away a storm came up. Nothing in the history of the county for years before equaled it. The clouds came down like a burial pall and covered the earth and heavens. Lights (candles) were lighted in the house and rain, hail, thunder and lightning played havoc for an hour. Women and children and staid old veterans of the Revolution and who had stood in the fore front of battle with the old hero who lay in the casket quailed at the war of the elements. It was the greatest funeral of its day and the corpse was one of our greatest citizens. When the storm disappeared it took two hours to clear the road from Rock Forge mansion to the Benner graveyard on the hill a mile from the house.

This comes to the writer from one of our oldest families and is only recalled by the wonderful storm of Monday and that because the of absolute darkness of the time the storm prevailed.

Hadley's Pictures Entertain.

There was a large attendance at the theatre last evening to the E. J. Hadley's moving pictures, given under the auspices of the George I. Wilber Hose company. This was the second appearance of this company in Oneonta and it is making an excellent record for itself here. The manager of the company, E. G. Hedden, is giving the public exactly what he advertises to give them and Mr. Hadley is an expert operator of the picture machine. Their programme last evening consisted of a wide variety of pictures of the most interesting nature. All were excellent examples of motion photography and they show that there is continual improvement in this line of work. Among the pictures that made the most lasting impression with the audience were probably, Capital vs Labor—A Struggle for Justice; Solomon's Judgment, a Biblical picture finely colored; and the spectacular subject, The Reign of Louis XIV., showing many of the incidents of the life of that ruler. The latter was one of the most entertaining pictures ever exhibited here. The Grand Fountain of Versailles and the Trip to the Land of Midnight Sun were also fascinating subjects. There were a number of new comedy and magic pictures the whole making an entertainment of excellence and one that met with the full favor of the audience.

The Hose company netted quite a sum from the entertainment and they will be credited with giving the people their money's worth. They have contracted for the re-appearance of the same attraction here next fall. This will be the attraction in Garman's Opera House Tuesday evening April 18th. Proceeds for the benefit of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R.

Maria F. Hoover wife of Geo. D. Hoover, of Union Twp. departed this life Monday, April 3, 1905.

She was born Feb. 15, 1855 in Bald Eagle Valley where she spent all her life. Her maiden name was Maria F Peters, and she was united in marriage with Geo. D. Hoover in July 1878.

Mrs. Hoover, was an excellent wife, a devoted mother, a neighbor beloved and greatly respected. A consistent christian a patient sufferer, who "endured as seeing Him who is invisible."

Like theirs my last reward!"

The deceased was born in Ireland about 80 years ago, coming to this country when quite a young man. He settled down in this county where he proved to be a good citizen, kind neighbor and friend.

Death of a Little Child.

About 4 o'clock Sunday morning the spirit of little Dorothy, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, of Coburn, forsook its earthly bearer and now rests on the bosom of Him who said: "Suffer little children to come unto Me, for such is the kingdom of heaven." For several months Mrs. Miller has been visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Alice Robb, of East Bishop St. Some time ago her little two-year-old daughter Dorothy became ill and this week her illness developed into pneumonia. Saturday night she became worse and the sad result already mentioned followed early Sunday morning.

Mr. Miller was out of town when death occurred but returned Monday. The funeral took place from the residence of Mrs. Robb, Tuesday afternoon. Interment at Hublersburg.

Millions of Money, Millions

The way the Standard Oil Co. made their millions was by selling us coal oil. Every time we consume a gallon of coal oil we add to their millions. They have a net profit of over 100 per cent. on every gollon of oil we consume. Electric light and city gas are both sold at over 100 per cent. clear profit. If you buy a

Sunlight "Omega" Acetylene Light Machine

and make your own light, which is a beautiful, soft white light, and only costs about one-third as much as city gas or electric light It is cheaper than coal oil. The Sunlight "Omega" light machine works automatically, no trouble and so simple to operate that anyone can learn how to make the light in ten minutes. If you live in the country, city or town you can have light that is better, purer, cheaper, less dangerous and less troublesome than any light in existance.

Acetylene Fixtures, Chandeliers, etc., furnished at cost. Any church in my district who will light with acetylene, can have a contribution from me of 10 per cent. of their machine. Inquiries promptly answered, correspondence solicited, estimates furnished upon application.

Unionville.

On Monday the 10th Wm. Smith, of Bush Hollow, was buried from his home Mr. Smith was an aged man being of eighty years, and father of Calvin Smith of this place. This aged father called from works to rewards, too had been ill for some time and suffered much of physical pain, but there comes a time when all this is ended and joy and peace reigns supreme to those who have been the disciples of Christ. All those who have departed bearing this testimony tell us plainly that it pays to live the life of the christian if for nothing else than to be able to die the death of the christian and enter into eternal joy.

Warm showers are refreshing the earth and the grass and grain is shooting up nicely. Some have garden made, but other folks are behind.

The entertainment given by the grammar school on Friday evening was quite a success and a full house did justice to the applauding. The program was lengthy and varied some parts were serious and others were comic so that all people were suited. Some people laughed enough to last them a whole month. Altogether the entertainment showed much skill and practice on the part of both teacher and pupils and they well earned their money.

I. E. Bing has purchased a fine little bear, seven or eight weeks old, which was shipped to him in Pittsburg on Monday, by Mr. Bird, of this place, who captured it. Mr. Bing will use the bear in his carnival with which he expects to travel during the summer

Mrs. Irvin Alexander has been called to the home of her parents in Clearfield Co. by the serious illness of her mother, who is quite aged.

On Saturday night our good people were aroused from their slumbers by the alarm of fire on the streets. The hour was after midnight and the location was the extreme lower end of the town in the house owned and occupied by Wm. Potter. The family were all away from home and how the fire could have started at that time during the night is a mystery. It was discovered by Mr. Parson who had been nursing a sick father up Dix Run and was going to his home with Mr. Stover below town. His horse frightened and drew his attention to the fire is the way it was discovered or much damage might have been done. As it was the lower story was damaged considerably and the second story smoked considerably.

The sermon preached by Mr. Piper in the M. E. church was well worth remembering. He used for his text "What hast Thou in Thyne hand," referring to the rod Moses held in his hand and which was turned into a serpent and spoke of the great things that have been accomplished through making proper use of the small opportunities, talents and means that some characters have possessed and that we each one hold something in our hand which God has given us to use for Him. Shall we use it and reap our reward or neglect it and receive condemnation and remorse. The sermon preached by Mr. Bergen in the Presbyterian church was equally good and very practical his text was "All ye are called to be saints." That the calling of our people no matter where or what it may be, is of equal importance if it is what God wants them to do and should be sanctified to his glory and honor, If the calling is an humble one then uplift it in the eyes of your fellow men by fulfilling it nobly and living pure, righteous and godly lives. It is to be hoped that we shall each remember these lessons and endeavor to profit by them in applying them to our daily lives.

Interesting and Inspiring Services Conducted by the Members of the State Sunday School Committe.

Sunday was a day of special interest and help to the Sunday school workers of our town. According to the announcements made last week the members of the touring party occupied the pulpits of five of the churches and delivered addresses full of encouragement and cheer. In the afternoon a mass meeting was held in the Methodist church, several of the local pastors assisting the visiting brethren. Mr. Landes, State Field Sec'ty, took charge of the meeting, lead in the singing and made the address. The excellent singing by the male quartette of the touring party was one of the inspiring features of this service.

In the evening two union services were held; one in the Presbyterian church the other in the Methodist church. The Rev. Dr. Erdman was expected to address the congregation assembled in the Methodist church but owing to illness was compelled to assign his work to Hugh Cork the General State Secretary. Both churches were well filled with interested audiences. The male quartette did double service at night singing in both churches during various parts of the services. Mr. Landes delivered the address in the Presbyterian church and Mr. Cork in the Methodist church.

The presence of this touring party proved a source of inspiration to pastors and people and their presence will, we believe, result in greater and better things in our churches and Sunday schools. The keynote of these meetings was "Saved for Service."

A Question and Its Answer.

I am asked the question, "What is the relation of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association to the American Sunday School union?" With an experience of over 40 years subserving the interests of Sunday schools in Northern Central Pennsylvania. I ought to be able to give a correct answer. The work of the American Sunday School union, strictly undenominational, is done for the extension of Bible school instruction for the most part, in the rural districts of our entire national domain, in places most in need of its aid and encouragement. In the past 80 years of its work there are churches, not a few of them, in all sections of our country where its missionaries planted the first Sunday school. The State Sabbath School association is consistently inter-denominational in its operations. Its chief object so far as I understand it is to awaken and deepen an interest in Bible study and teaching by holding conventions and institutes in the cities and county towns of our state. It does not undertake directly, in close touch, to reach for mission work in any place outside the larger villages and cities. Much more might be said.

In answering the question it should be added, I trust truthfully as it is written by Divine inspiration in 1 Cor. 3:9, "Ye are laborers together with God," in all things essential to the salvation of sinners, St. Paul says, "There is no difference" among the christian believers and workers for "thy kingdom come."

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad at times I could not speak above a whispe," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorenci, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. It's effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." For sale by C. M. Parrish.

STATE SABBATH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Representatives Spend Sunday in Bellefonte in the Interest of the Work.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—

It is hardly needful for me to say I sincerely desired that the brief sojourn of our brethren of The Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association would be not only very pleasant to themselves, but also to us very "profitable for instruction in righteousness." I well know that special prayers were offered for them in secret and at the family altar as well as in public places. The results of their presence with us will show, I trust, that the "labors" of these christian workers "are not in vain in the Lord" and that our frequent prayers in their behalf are answered.

My humble opinion as to the Rockefeller gift I placed in your hands to be published first in our Bellefonte Daily News as it was last Saturday because I believe in being neighborly, first of all, to my nearest neighbor. I am glad to know that an attempt is already begun to make sure that my written statement of the case will without fail reach Mr, Rockefeller's hands to be diligently inspected by him. Possibly at one of his feasts he may see the hand-writing on the wall, "Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting."

God speed every righteous cause.

Yours faithfully for "Thy Kingdom come"
R. C. M.

Ninety-eight Per Cent.

There is a fascination about big profits to a business man. But the conservative and cautious trader prefers to have the lesser per cent. of interest and the larger per cent. of safty in his investments There is no business man who would not consider it a sound proposition to invest in an interprise in which absolute loss was impossible and which offered ninety-eight chances in a hundred of a rich profit. The statistics of cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery show that ninety-eight per cent. of cases of "weak lung" can be absolutely cured. Almost if not all forms of physical weakness may be traced to starvation. Starvation saps the strength. The body is just as much starved when the stomach cannot extract nutrition from the food it receives as when there is no food. "Weak lung," bronchial affections, obstinate coughs, call for nourishment. "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies that nourishment in its most condensed and assimilable form. It makes "weak lungs" strong, by strengthening the stomach and organs of digestion which digest and distribute the food, and by increasing the supply of pure blood.

Talleyrand Visited Bellefonte.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE REPUBLICAN:—

Information is asked as to the naming of our town. We have always believed what we were told, that the name so beautiful and appropriate was given by my grandmother, Mrs. Anne Harris. She was the daughter of Col. James Dunlop, and wife of James Harris, who were the founders in a sense of the town. She was a woman of unusual intelligence and ability.

That Talleyrand was here and a guest of Mr. Harris makes it not unlikely that the tradition that he assisted in choosing the name is probably correct. His visit to America was in 1792-1796.

Records of those early days are deplorably wanting.

NEW CERTIFICATE LAW

REASONS FOR THE MOST IMPORTANT FEATURE OF THE PROPOSED MEASURE.

The Pennsylvania Child Labor Committee Shows How the Present Law Has Been Evaded By Unscrupulous Parents and How This Evasion May Be Avoided Hereafter.

The strongest feature of the bill prepared by the Pennsylvania Child Labor Committee is that which requires, in addition to an affidavit before a notary, that all employment certificates shall be issued by school secretaries and principals and by deputy factory inspectors.

This feature is made still stronger by the clause which provides for a permanent record of these certificates.

Responsible manufacturers have long realized the disadvantage of depending on the affidavit of parents as to the age of their children. One manufacturer said: "As to child labor, whose fault is it, I should like to know, the manufacturer's, the parents' or the child's? The parent perjures himself by swearing before a magistrate or a notary that a child is of legal age, and presents a certificate to us, backed up by voluble assurances of its accuracy. I should like to know how we can be held responsible for the employment of a child."

The principal of a school says that employers at times refuse to take children without a certificate (in addition to the regular certificate) from a teacher that they are of legal age according to the school records. When this happens, the father or mother invariably attempts to persuade the teacher to make a statement at variance with her record.

The above stories are not only typical of other stories on record, but they will be at once recognized as characteristic of human nature and the inevitable result of the provisions of the present law.

In short, the employment certificate, as now issued, is the effective and final weapon of defense of a child who does not want to go to school; of the parent disposed to exploit his children for selfish purposes; of the employer in search of cheap labor. The employment certificate effectually defeats the purposes of the compulsory school attendance law and the factory law as it relates to children. Children of eight, nine, ten, eleven and twelve years, armed with employment certificates which certify to their having reached their thirteenth birthday, may wave them in defiance at their teachers and face with indifference the truant officers or factory inspectors who attempt to enforce the laws—the laws which compel school attendance up to thirteen years and prohibit the work of children under that age.

School superintendents and other school officials from all parts of Pennsylvania are eager to see the present law revised and the issuance of certificates placed in the hands of officials who are interested in the education of the children. While the present law is in operation, they realize that there is no hope of stemming the tide of illiteracy. Children are at work and out of school before they can read or write, as a direct result of false certificates.

The Philadelphia schools show a rapid decrease in school attendance following the first grade:

Enrollment in public schools in 1897-1903: Grade 1, 35,263; grade 2, 25,822, 73 per cent. remaining; grade 3, 23,117, 66 per cent. remaining; grade 4, 18,060, 51 per cent. remaining; grade 5, 14,885, 42 per cent. remaining; grade 6, 10,222, 29 per cent. remaining; grade 7, 7016, 20 per cent. remaining.

Supervising principals and teachers call attention to the fact that children who leave before they have mastered the art of reading or, in other words, before they have gained a facility for reading which makes it a pleasure, do not, and in many cases cannot, read in after life. They insist that a minimum amount of schooling should be required by law before a child is permitted to go to work. A few teachers fix the minimum at the fourth grade, but many believe that a child should reach the fifth, sixth or seventh grade in school to secure a permanent ability to read. It is sometimes claimed that this would be unfair to the foreign-born child, but the principal of a school, which is made up of foreign-born children, advocates an educational standard before permitting a child's employment. She says that a foreign-born child, landing in this country at twelve years of age, not having had any schooling at home and not understanding a word of English, can, under the present law, be detained in school for only one year, or until he is thirteen.

Evidence from all quarters shows conclusively that the high percentage of illiteracy and the extensive employment of children under legal age cannot be laid at the door of employers, factory inspectors, school authorities, nor can parents even be held entirely responsible. The experience of all states in the matter of employment certificates has been: First, that evidence of age other than the affidavit of a parent is necessary; second, that certificates must be issued by a salaried state or municipal officer whose reward is not regulated by the number of certificates issued; third, that duplicate certificates must be kept on file at a central office, so that all interested in the enforcement of the law may consult the file when inquiry into suspicial cases is needful. So far, no officials have been found so competent to issue employment certificates as those connected with the common school system. School authorities are the only public officials whose primary interest is the welfare of the child. In Pennsylvania, as in other states where the compulsory school law is in operation, school officials must pass on the question as to whether a child has complied with the school laws of the commonwealth. Employment certificates in the hands of school authorities virtually become certificates of discharge from school. The school official who issues the certificate says: "This child has complied with the school laws of the commonwealth. School authorities hereby surrender their custody and pass him over to the custody of the inspector of factories."

It is for this reason that the Pennsylvania Child Labor Committee endorses legislation which requires evidence of age other than the affidavit of the parent, or, in the absence of evidence, requires a minimum amount of school attendance, and places the issuing of certificates in the hands of the superintendents of schools of cities and boroughs, or, where there are no such superintendents, in the hands of the principal teachers of the common schools of the district in which the child seeking an employment certificate resides. The parent's affidavit will be made, as heretofore, before a notary, but the certificate will be issued by the school authorities.

Another proof, some more evidence, Bellefonte testimony to swell the long list of advocates who endorse the old Quaker remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this convicting endorsement of the claims made for that remarkable preparation:

Mrs. Emma J. Davis, of 246 E. Logan St., says: "I have a great deal of confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in a published testimonial in 1897. I told how I had been relieved of kidney complaint and backache which had kept me suffering for years. Doan's Kidney Pills did this for me when other remedies had failed. Whenever I feel any symptom of my old trouble I send to F. Potts Green's drug store for a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and it never requires more than a few doses to get me right.

NATIONAL D. A. R. CONGRESS.

Society Will Dedicate Memorial Continental Hall and Elect President-General in Washington.

When the cornerstone of the Memorial Continental Hall, which is being erected in Washington, by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was laid in April of last year, few of the members present at the ceremony thought that the structure would be so far advanced that the auditorium could be used for the annual congress of the society this year. At the opening of the fourteenth annual congress on April 17 the first exercises will be the dedication of the edifice raised by the efforts of the Daughters in memory of the patriots who lost their lives in the War of the Revolution.

Interest is centered this year in the biannual election of a president-general to succeed Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the Vice President of the United States, who has been one of the most popular woman ever elected to the office.

There are three candidates mentioned for the place—Mrs. Donald McLean, of New York; Mrs. George M. Sternberg, of Washington, wife of the Surgeon General, and Mrs. Charles Lippet, of Rhode Island. Popular favor turns toward Mrs. McLean. She is a brilliant and accomplished woman and was a nominee for the office two years ago, when upon Mrs. Fairbank's name being suggested as a possible candidate Mrs. McLean at once withdrew in her favor.

Delegates from the various chapters go uninstructed to the National Congress and vote as they think best.

The Philadelphia chapter is one of the largest and most influential in the congress and one of its prominent members said recently.

"It is difficult to make a choice between the three ladies whose names are brought forward for president-general. They are each eminently fitted for the office; but as far as the Philadelphia Chapter is concerned I think I may say that it will indorse Mrs. McLean, as we consider that in her are embodied those qualities which should make a good leader. Not only has she tact and a charming personality, but she has shown herself to be unequal in her knowledge of parliamentary law and well versed in the necessary qualifications for the office."

In addition to the election of a national president the Pennsylvania delegates are interested in the election of a State regent. Mrs. Reeder is the retiring State regent, and among those suggested as her successor is Mrs. Alexander E. Patton, of Curwensville, Pa.

Each State holds its annual meeting in Washington in addition to the business of the national society.

The annual congress has heretofore been held during the week of February 22, but owing to the inclement weather usual at that period of the year the date was changed to the week containing the 19th of April, that day being the anniversary of the battle of Lexington. As a result of this change, however, there will be little of a social nature attempted during this session, the gay season at Washington being over until after Easter, and the President and many other people prominent in social and official circles will be away from the capital.

The S. O. C. Gift of $100,000 to the A. B. C. F. M.

There should be praise in all the churches for the secular newspapers of our country opening their columns for the free and full expression of opinion on any subject of public religious interest.

After an experience of more than forty years laboring as a Christian Missioner in the oil regions of Pennsylvania, I ought to know something concerning this matter affecting the most vital interests of the church in deciding a question that should be rightly and clearly settled now if possible, once for all.

It has been said that "most preachers of the gospel in all branches of the church, every Sabbath day in the year, receive gifts more or less of ill gotten gains. With a little close insight, anyone can see that it is simply impossible to discriminate in any of these cases, so there is really no moral question involved so far as they are concerned. Every separate case must stand on its merits. No one can deny that there is a fixed line of demarkation between the church and the world although it is not always easy for us to draw the line. God has plainly drawn it in the Bible. We cannot always supply the line dividing the righteous from the wicked There can be no controversy on this subject outside of a specific case like the one now under consideration.

What then shall I say that no one can gainsay ?

FIRST. Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden has not yet so far as I have seen, sufficiently refuted the false logic of Director H. H. Rogers in his attempt to justify the course of the Standard Oil Co. in the name of John D. Rockefeller. contributing $100,000 to the Boston Board of Foreign Mission. Mr. Rogers says "Ministers say queer things. Dr. Gladden says that everybody knows that John D, Rockefeller has obtained his mony dishonestly. With as much reason I could say that everybody knows that Dr. Gladden would not trust the ten commandments for ten days with the deacons of his church, because they would surely break some of them and bend the rest." Yes, it is true, sometimes "Ministers say queer things." Not one of them will deny it. And does not Mr. Rogers know that not only Dr. Gladden's deacons but all the deacons in Presbyterians and Congregational churches never profess to keep the ten commandments by a sinless obedience, but all of them will confess that every day they more or less imfringe that Holy Decalogue. I do not say this to frame an excuse for any purpose whatsoever much less to justify the business transactions of the Standard Oil Company.

I wish to believe that the S.O. C. officials would not bring the sweeping charge against those deacons that they deliberately manage their secular business so as to reap the largest possible ill-gotten gain at the expenee of their fellow-men.

Secondly.—The chief solicitor of the S. O. C., S. C. T. Dodd, in his lengthy defense of John D. Rockefeller scarcely touches the case He has filled columns in the daily papers stating what the Standard Oil company has not done, that "it does not accept rebates nor does it control any Railroad Company," etc. Furthermore, reflecting upon the integrity of other business companies he declares that some of our Doctors of Divinity "are doubly vile in their pretence of interest in good morals". Against all this it can be truly said ministers of the gospel as well as all other sinners, bad as we have been, can easily name a multitude of sinful deeds we have not yet committed. It is easy to see that the bare assertions of Solicitor Dodd have little, if any, direct bearing upon the question at issue.

Thirdly. What has the Standard Oil company done? How, by what methods has it amased its multi-millions? I press this question with no feeling of envy or to falsely accuse John D. Rockefeller.

God, in the Bible says not a word against money or making money if it is righteously done.

I could easily show that the Book of books plainly commends it. Now as to how it will decide the question.

A few years ago, while sojourning in an oil district county seat in Pennsylvania, we were startled one morning by the report that the Standard Oil Company had completely broken up the local oil company so that many if not all, of its investors in the town and vicinity were financially ruined, including a number of poor widows. I cite this particular case partly because my brother in the pastorate of that town lost several hundred dollars by that S. O. C. transaction.

From my point of view, I seem to see that Mr. Rockefeller might do well according to the Word of God in Luke 19: 1-10, to "restore four-fold" or at least to make good the loss distressing those poor widows instead of sending his money to one of our most beneficent world-wide Boards of Foreign Missions. Space forbids just now any further specifications that could be given.

With my limited knowledge of secular business, it would not be in place for me to hastily condemn the Standard Oil company or any other business corporation.

I merely ask.

Why don't Mr. Rockefeller come out from his seclusion and in a manly or Christian way frankly tell us by what honest methods he has become "the richest man in the world?" "If there be any virtue," he must know that this poor world as well as the church needs and wants to know "whatsoever things are true—honest—just—pure—and lovely." Gal. 4:8. Moreover, he must know that he can not do this by proxy, not even by the shrewdest of business men. "From a child" he has learned from "The Holy Scriptures," and has repeatedly heard it from the lips of his Pastor that "Everyone of us shall give account of himself to God" Rom 14:12.

Losing nothing worth having, Mr. Rockefeller might gain immensely by giving his personal attention to this matter "before it is everlastingly too late." And if he does it according to scripture "today" and "now" then and not otherwise I shall most gladly accept from him a gift of six hundred dollars, so that I can finish the building of a Christian Chapel in the oil regions of Pennsylvania needed quite as much as any chapel wanted in foreign lands.

In conclusion, I must say further, that if the S. O. C. has no better plea in its defense than that made by Director Rogers and the statement of Solicitor Dodd, then it can be safely affirmed that any righteous cause for the glory of God and the saving of souls will succeed quite as well, if not better, without the financial support in gifts like that of John D. Rockefeller.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson of Spencer, Ia., says: Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with the hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I can heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

The State Appropriations.

Appropriation bills carrying a total of more than $7,000,000 were passed by the Senate during its three sessions on Tuesday. Of the 181 bills on the calendar for final passage 145 were finally disposed of, necessitating that many roll calls. The majority of the bills passed carried appropriations, the smallest being an annuity for a disabled Civil War veteran, and the largest providing for $2,000,000 for the care and treatment of the indigent insane for the next two years. There were appropriations for hospital and State institutions situated in all parts of the State, for monuments to soldiers in the Revolutionary, the wars of 1812, 1826, the Civil War, and one for a monument to Molly Pitcher in the old graveyard at Carlisle. Most of the appropriation bills now go to the House, and many of them will undoubtedly be cut.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad at times I could not speak above a whispe," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorenci, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. It's effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." For sale by C. M Parrish.

Umbrella Language.

There is a language of umbrellas as of flowers. Place your umbrella in a rack and this will indicate that it will change owners. An umbrella carried over a woman—the man getting nothing but the drippings of the rain, signifies courtship. When the man has the umbrella and the woman the drippings, it indicates marriage. To carry it at right angles under your arm signifies that an eye is to be lost by the man who follows you. Opening an umbrella quickly, it is said, will frighten a mad bull. To put a cotton umbrella by the side of a silk one signifies "Exchange is no robbery." To purchase an umbrella means "I am not smart but honest." To lend an umbrella indicates "I am a fool," To return an umbrella means—well, never mind what it means; nobody ever does that. To carry an umbrella just high enough to tear out men's eyes and knock off men's hats signifies "I am a woman," To press an umbrella on your friend, saying, "Oh, do take it; I had much rather you would than not." signifies lying. To carry it from home in the morning means, "The rain will clear off."

A Simple Remedy for Acquiring Hard Muscles and a Sound Body.

A number 12 bore gun when loaded with three drams of powder will send a load of shot further and shoot harder than if double this amount of powder is used.

If too much powder is used, all of it will not explode until it leaves the muzzle of the gun.

That portion which does not explode at the proper time, interferes with the direction, and checks the velocity or force of the shot.

Hard muscles and a strong body do not depend on the quantity of food, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation.

If the nutrient properties of all of the food that may be eaten are appropriated by the blood and tissues, the muscles of the body will grow harder and stronger, whether you eat much or little.

You may be well, but not strong. What you want is strength,—physical force.

You do not have to be sick to need Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

Thousands of men and millions of women have need for just what Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will do for them.

A little Kodol after meals, will enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate every atom of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten.

It will do more.

It will enable the stomach to extract from the food all its nutrient properties, and contribute the same to the blood.

It will enable the blood to circulate freely and deposit a full quota of this tissue-building and strength-giving material into every nook, corner, muscle and fibre of your whole being.

The result is perfect strength.

And perfect health.

Disease cannot lay hold on the man or woman whose physical condition is thus fortified. Recommended by Green's Pharmacy Co.

ELAINE ROZE'S EASTER LETTER.

Palm Beach Fashions. The Vogue of Abis Silk.

Another silk season is before us! So says Paris, and Palm Beach visitors confirm this decree.

Notwithstanding the deserved reputation of taffeta silk for cracking, splitting and spotting, very few women have ever been able to resist its beauty, but until the advent of the latest and best development in silk weaving, the result has always been the same—shreads and lamentations. But today no woman is without at least one silk gown, and for her whose outfit is worthy of the name of being fashionable, not less than four have been provided. for at least we are offered a silk that will give wear and not go to pieces Silk may be chosen for the Easter gown with the assurance that we have a gown of the prettiest and most modish fabric, and that it can be worn without the uncomfortable fear that a misstep will result in a heart rending tear.

Abis Messaline Taffetta, of which the dainty reception gown on the left in my drawing is composed, bears its guarantee on the selvage, thus eliminating the problem regarding wearing possibilities, and reaches the acme of perfection in the weavers' art, as well as running the gamut of most exquisite fashionable shades. Supple to the touch and exceptionally lustrous, the Abis gown shown was one of the most beautiful among the many modish frocks worn at Palm Beach.

With the interest in the question of good health as a great factor in the development of beauty the harmful practice of tight lacing is seldom indulged in, so nothing need be said on that score, but the proper adjustment of the corset is not as widely understood as it should be

A good model of straight front corset, such as the C-B. a la Spirite, should be selected, and if it be brought well down so as to clasp about the hips, with the lowest clasp below the abdomen. the strings being then moderately and comfortably drawn together, the corset instead of being pernicious will be decidedly beneficial to health as well as appearance.

—How much wiser to give a kind, sensible answer to a child than tell him to "go play and don't bother me," as many do. Some day you will not be able to answer them at all. Who knows but what this may be the last year or the last day that you can answer their questions. Do what you can to aid them on life's road; think of the mistakes you have made, and guide their tender feet into straight paths. —On Wednesday of last week the carcass of the eldest and largest buck ever killed in Blair county, was found in a field in the vicinity of Williamsburg. He was the patriarch of a herd of deer which ranges Tussey mountain. The grand old animal was a ten pronged antler specimen and he was a deer of splendid form and physique. He came to his untimely and altogether too tragic death by being run down by a lot of bloodthirsty dogs. Seven such canines have recently been slaughtered by wardens. Seventy or seven hundred more of them ought to be killed at once if the slaughter of so many is necessary to clean up the last of the vicious, worthless brutes. It is not only a great pity but a great shame that the old patriarch buck was compelled to surrender his noble life for the gratification of a lot of fiendish brutes of the canine species.

—Dr. Minor C. Baldwin will give a grand musical concert in St. John's Catholic church Thursday evening April 27th. All lovers of good music cannot fail to hear this World's famed artist. Admission 50 cents. We clip the following extracts from leading papers: "His fame as an organist and composer is known throughout the land. Prof. Baldwin has a charm that is inexplicable. From his manipulation of the organ he has been called the 'Saint-Saens of America.'"—New York World. "A wonderful performance." —Boston Globe. "He completely captivated his hearers."—Boston Daily Transcript.

—The Opera house Thursday evening was crowded with a large, fashionable audience to witness the appearance of Milton and Sargeant Aborn's elaborate revival of "The Fortune Teller." The equipments seen here last night were the same used by Alice Neilson when she presented the opera with such unparalled success. The Fortune Teller is a bright, tuneful musical opera. Miss Grace Orr Myers as a gypsy fortune teller is to be commended, the company as a whole made quite a hit and during the evening responded gracefully to repeated calls. Manager Garman is to be congratulated on the high class of enterteinment he has furnished the public this winter.

—Rev. R. Crittenden with the first of April began the forty-first year of his service for the American Sunday School Union in Northern Central Pennsylvania. He is greatly encouraged by the results of his Bible school mission work in the rural districts. There are churches today, not a few, in places where he planted the first Sunday school. He asks us to remind our readers that the work of the American Sunday School Union, strictly undenominational, is done in country places most in need of its aid and encouragement. The object of the Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association, consistently interdenominational, is to awaken and deepen an interest in Bible study and teaching by holding conventions and institutes in cities and country towns. In all things essential, both organizations are Christian and Apostolic. St. Paul says, more than once, "There is no difference." In his last prayer, thrice repeated, our Lord prays, "That they all may be one."

—Miss Blanche Jacobs, of East Lamb St. is suffering from a sprained ankle.

—Mr. Noah H. Swayne II, Supt. of the Nittany Iron works, has kindly consented to take part in the concert for the benefit of the Hospital April 25. Mr. Swayne is a musician of ability and will no doubt please his hearers.

—Professor A. J. Corbesier perhaps holds the honor of being the oldest instructor of physical culture in point of continuous service in the United States. He has for forty years taught the midshipmen of Annapolis the art of fencing.

—Friday evening a large crowd was attracted to the Commons of the Stone School building to witness a game of base ball which was in progress there. The contest was between the Midway and Stone School teams, and it was certainly a "corker." The game being interspersed with class scraps among the girls with occasional assistance given by the boys made it doubly interesting. At the close of the game the score was 12 to 8 in favor of Stone school. The features of the game were as follows: "Corabbie" Gordon's excellent all-round work; several one-base hits; the exciting class scraps; and umpire Lingle's startling decisions.

—Don't forget the concert for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital Tuesday evening, April 25th. Make no other engagement. Go and help the worthy cause along. On this occasion a Bellefonte audience will have the pleasure of listening to Miss Helen Fram one of the leading soprano singers of Philadelphia and a member of Constantin von Sternberg's conservatory, a lady of attractive personality and pleasing appearance. Miss Edna Turner Bradfield, a young violinist of note; Miss Margery Knowles, of Richmond, recently returned from Paris, where she has spent some time in having her voice cultivated. Dr. Lee Woodcock whose musical ability need not be commended to a Bellefonte audience and George Brandon as pianist, of Scranton, will also be here. While announcing the presence of strangers and praising their merits we must not fail to mention the presence of our own Miss Rebecca Pugh Lyons who has lately returned from abroad where she has spent much time in the prefection of her musical talent and as a musician is hard to excel.

Holidaysburg People are Scratching.

A mysterious cutaneous disease has made its appearance in Hollidaysburg, and now the people there have to do more than scratch for a living. It resembles the old fashioned itch in many particulars, confined to children, but even adults are not exempt from its ravages. It first appears in red pimples, which entirely encompass the whole portion of the body that is exposed. The itching is intense and gives great annoyance to the victim, but some of the doctors have discovered a remedy that seems to give immediate relief and effects a permanent cure within ten days. When it strikes a family every child is effected within 24 hours, but in some instances the adults escape.

Anglers Getting Ready.

The various anglers are hunting up their poles, lines and hooks, and making preparations for the enjoyment of a day's outing along the mountain streams in search of the speckled beauties.

The season will open in Pennsylvania on Saturday, April 15, and it is safe to say that, the weather and water proving favorable, that fish will be included in the bill of fare among the disciples of Isaac Walton on the Sunday following. It is feared the streams are not very full of trout this season.

Surviving her are the following children, all grown to young man and womanhood, John of Donora, Misses Anne, Kathryan and Beatrice at home and Sister Linus of Manvunch.
